

Post-Professional Certificate in Leadership for PAs

If you want to lead the PA profession, you will need an education that prepares you to perform as a leader across an ever evolving healthcare landscape. The healthcare crisis of 2020 to 2022 has left a shortage of medical professionals that has persisted into 2023 and beyond—and PAs have answered the call. Take your place among the upper echelon of PAs ready to shape healthcare with a Physician Assistant Post-Professional Certificate in Leadership from A.T. Still University (ATSU).

As the first in whole person healthcare, ATSU is uniquely positioned to provide you with the essential skills and knowledge needed to improve the quality and efficiency of patient care. After this series of courses, you will establish yourself as a PA prepared to lead in any scenario.

WHY GET A LEADERSHIP CERTIFICATE FROM ATSU?

When you go with ATSU to progress your PA career, you're choosing a certificate program that...

- Was designed by and exclusively for practicing PAs
- Can be completed entirely online, on your schedule—so you can continue practicing
- Is taught by doctoral-educated PAs who are leaders in the field and are prepared to motivate and propel students toward exciting new opportunities
- Offers affordable tuition rates
- Allows you to become an agent of positive change and serve the underserved
- Has two start dates per year, and can be completed in just five or 10 months
- All certificate courses are transferable to the full Doctor of Medical Science degree should you choose to pursue one later (plus your application fee to the DMSc will be fully waived!)

CURRICULUM DETAILS

The leadership certificate consists of just three courses that can be completed in five or 10 months! The Organizational Leadership course is a core requirement, and then you may choose two of following courses:

- Health Economics
- Ethical Consideration in Health Administration
- PAs in Healthcare Policy

CONSIDERING A DOCTORATE?

If you're considering pursuing a Doctor of Medical Science (DMSc), a graduate certificate is the perfect place to start! This certificate provides practicing PAs with foundational leadership knowledge to advance their careers as well as gain advanced standing toward the doctoral degree!
